1. "Will BGLL be providing each Master Agent with lottery terminals in sufficient quantities, including repair and maintenance, to be connected to a BGLL-provided central system, or will each Master Agent need to provide their own technology?"

Yes, BGLL will be providing Master Agents with Lottery Terminals to distribute their sub-agents according to the proven demand. BGLL will have its own MIS and POS systems that will connect all its Master Agents and respective sub-agents.

2. "Please confirm that BGLL will conduct the Boledo and Jackpot Lottery drawings (draw the winning numbers)."

Yes, BGLL will conduct its Lottery Draws at the Romac's Plaza, located on Albert Street, Belize City. These draws will be live through various media sources.

3. "For the technical proposal BGLL is requiring Electronic Data Sheet of Sub-Agents (name, address, location, email, contact number). It is not reasonable in a period of two weeks to select and vet the sub-agents, especially given that proponent has no authority yet to sell lottery products. Can the government provide us with the list of previous sub-agents and we work under the assumption that at minimum those sub-agents will continue to be sub-agents. Or, all though not being a Master Agent yet, can we sign people up to be sub-agents?"

We expect applicants to have surveyed their geographic zone prior to applying and have at least a preliminary list of agents which they have approached, and which may be interested in working with them to be a sub-agent.

4. "It appears that the Master Agent license is valid for only one year. Can you confirm this? The concern here is that 1 year is not enough to recoup investment."

Yes, the Master Agent License is only valid for one (1) year.
